

Pittsburgh region's population decline

The combined population of Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties, which comprised the Pittsburgh metropolitan area in the 2000 census, stood at 330,719 less than their 1960 peak. Here are the six-county region's population counts and net change in each census since 1950:

